

RAND HRS 2016 Fat File

March 2023

1). Important Things to Note:

- a). The RAND HRS 2016 Fat File is based on HRS 2016 Core (Final V2.0, December 2019) data, and the Tracker 2020 (Early V2.0, December 2022) file.
- b). The RAND HRS 2016 Fat File does not include the raw variables from the pension (PR_P) or jobs (PR_JB) preloads sections. The raw variables from the pension (J_P) section, however, are included in the Fat Files, and have been transposed to the Respondent level.
- c). In 2018, two Respondents married another HRS Respondent. HHIPDN=906126010 married HHIPDN=906543010 and HHIPDN=544849010 married HHIPDN=540162010. In this file, we changed HHIDPN=906126010 to be HHIPDN=906543020 and HHIPDN=544849010 to be HHIPDN=540162020. We also updated HHID and PN to reflect this change. For both cases we set the sub-household ID (PSUBHH) to 1 until they marry in 2018, at which point we set it to 0, to match their spouse. This ensures they are recorded as a separate household until they marry in 2018.
- c). In 2020, one Respondent married another HRS Respondent. HHIDPN=541986010, married HHIDPN=541110010. In this file, we changed HHIDPN=541986010 to be HHIDPN=541110020. We also updated HHID and PN to reflect this change. We set the sub-household ID (PSUBHH) for HHIDPN=541110020 to 1 until they marry in 2020, at which point we set it to 0, to match their spouse. This ensures they are recorded as a separate household until they marry in 2020.
- d). RAND HRS Fat File documentation can be found on the RAND Center for the Study of Aging website. Please note, however, that these documents are unlike traditional codebooks in the sense that they do not contain information about specific variables from the survey (e.g., frequencies, question text, etc.). For this, we recommend that users examine the HRS Codebooks and HRS Questionnaires for the key variables under study.
